G - C - D - G - G - C - D - G

1. How many gentle flowers grow, in an English country ~ garden.

I'll tell you now of some them I know, and those I miss you'll surely ~ pardon.

Daffodils, hearts-ease and flox, meadow-sweet and lilies, stocks,

Gentle lupins and tall hollyhocks.

Roses, foxgloves, snowdrops and forget-me-nots, in an English country ~ garden.

2. How many insects build their homes, in an English country ~ garden.

I'll tell you now of some that I know, and those I miss I hope you'll ~ pardon.

Dragonflies and moths and bees, spiders falling from the trees,

Butterflies sway in the cool gentle breeze.

There are wasps' empty homes and tiny little gnomes, in an English country ~ garden.

How many songbirds.... (spoken)

“Actually, I've seen some of these gardens they talk about, and the sort of impression you get is that it's....”

3. Wet underfoot and the leaves are thick with soot, in an English country ~ garden.

Newspapers torn and strewn across the lawn, in an English country ~ garden.

Litter, garbage in the yards, little doggies' calling cards,

One scraggy rosebud peering through the weeds,

For they've all downed tools, while they do their football pools,

In an English country ~ garden.
