*The cry of the Morepork keeps coming back home
 It is hooting out there where the paths meet
 I was the one who allowed you to go
 It has curbed my deep love for you
 But now the formal return home
 Greetings to you, how my heart weeps with joy
 Still standing is the prestige
 And the enchantment of the ancestors
 Who have passed on
 Bring back the true spirit of the People to help heal the survivor
 Crying like a slave, searching for the true path for us all.*
